

From shadow to light

HELIOS

Solar Deity Collection

The Solar Deity collection of Frederic Jouvenot is dedicated to the sun gods. It implements a radically rethought display system in which time is staged like a play composed of 24 SCENES FOR EACH OF THE 24 HOURS. There are no hands or hour-markers, and the watch instead enables intuitive read-off by radiocentric sunbeams marking off the path of sun and thus of the passing time. The play on shade and light enlivening the dial is created by cones that are golden on one side (for daylight hours) and dark on the other (for the night hours). The transition from one to the other is instantaneous. The marvel of miniaturisation and horological complexity "stage-directing" this fascinating show is housed within a central 12 mm-diameter case comprising around one hundred parts including 24 jewels (out of the 42 in all contained in the movement)!
